PRISON WAS HIDING PLACE FOR CONVICTS

Discovered When Bloodhounds Would Not Leave Building.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Jefferson City, Mo., Sept. 9.—The escape of a well-known convict, who had just been made known by the prison officials, following the discovery of the manner of getting their freedom. Workmen building the new wall found under the temporary board floor of one of the guard towers a hole large enough for two men to hide in. The escape of the two men preceded that of four who got away.

The two men had dug the hole in the earth, stocked it with provisions and water and lay there during the next day, until the search for them had been abandoned, when they made their exit from the prison by means of a large hole in the wall in which they had left a loose stone.

The two men were Phillip Jackson and Fred King, sent here from Jackson County for burglary, February 19, 1915, to serve ten and fifteen years, respectively. Bloodhounds were used in trying to trail the convicts, but they would not leave the wall. Their actions, which were considered peculiar, were explained by discovery of the cache.

MORE MONEY NEEDED FOR GUARD FAMILIES

Although the money famine in the office of the Citizens' Welfare Committee, which is caring for the dependent families of Guardsmen, has been temporarily checked by the receipt of several generous donations, there is still need for more funds.

The Board of Trade yesterday sent in its check for $150 in fulfillment of a pledge made just after the mobilization of the Guard, and the Chamber of Commerce will send its check for a similar sum tomorrow. This will provide for the most urgent of the obligations of the association.

Rome, Sept. 9.—During the recent revolutionary disturbance in Greece, armed reservists on leave of absence invaded the houses of supporters of former Premier Venizelos according to an Athens dispatch to the Messagero. Mr. Venizelos is the pro-ally leader in Greece.

MULE RACE FEATURES TROOPERS' FIELD DAY

Guardsmen at Camp Ordway Give Outdoor Frolic.

Troop A won the field meet that was held yesterday afternoon on the drill field of Camp Ordway by scoring twelve points, while Company C, with eleven points, and Company M, with ten points, were close behind.

There were several original and amusing military features of the meet. The mule race, in which the Supply Company men attempted to ride the mules around the track, was one of the most spectacular events of the meet. Serg. Streats, Private McDonald and Private Casseus, won first, second and third prizes after much wangling about the track. One rider was thrown. The 800-yard race with contestants in full equipment, was also out of the ordinary.

Prizes in cash and medals were donated by the officers, and were awarded after the meet.

The summaries:

300-yard dash—Won by Scott, Troop A; second, Cleveland; Company M; third, Doney, Company M. Time, 11.5 seconds.

HOPE FOR RECOVERY OF THERON COUNCELOR

Local Merchants Will Wage War on False Advertisers.

Hope is held out for the quick recovery of Theron G. Councilor, 19 years old, who was seriously injured Friday night when an automobile in which he was riding collided with a street car at Seventh and D streets northwest. Councilor, who was seated on the running board of the machine, had one of his legs cut off below the knee and the other leg was so badly crushed that physicians at the Emergency Hospital fear that amputation will be necessary.

Walter A. Keefe, Councilor's companion, who was operating the automobile, escaped injury. He was released on $500 bond, pending a hearing on three charges.

TUBERCULOUS PERSONS BARRED FROM SCHOOLS

Regulations Are Designed to Prevent Spread of the Disease.

Drastic regulations designed to prevent the spread of tuberculosis through public or private school sessions, were adopted by the District Commissioners yesterday.

After October 1 no teacher, pupil, janitor or helper may attend school if suffering from tuberculosis in communicable form.

The Commissioners are further considering the adoption of a regulation prohibiting any consumption of food or drink in the manufacture of bread for sale and a further restriction denying them the right to work as barbers.

Commissioner Brownlow expressed the hope that provision will be made in the immediate future for special school facilities for tuberculous children, who not only will be given every opportunity to obtain an education, but will have the peculiar care to enable them to conquer the disease.

It is expected that the Commissioners' action will lead to recommendations by the Board of Education in the forthcoming estimates for the establishment of special schools for tuberculous children.

VIGILANCE COMMITTEE PLANS FALL CAMPAIGN

Local Merchants Will Wage War on False Advertisers.

Joseph Berberich, chairman of the Advertising Vigilance Committee of the Retail Merchants' Association, is expected to return to Washington the latter part of the week when a date will be selected for the initial fall meeting of the committee.

This committee is made up of six merchants, members of the Retail Merchants' Association, and forty-five citizens, delegates to the committee from leading citizens associations of the District of Columbia.

Various members of the committee assure their undivided support in the advertising vigilance work of the association, and with particular reference to the false advertising law which was passed by Congress. A case is now pending in the Police Court.

The greatest interest is felt throughout the country in the operation of the new false advertising law. Trade and newspapers, have devoted considerable space to reviews of the first case under the new law, filed by C. E. LaVigne, field representative of the American Fair Trade League.
